L O N D O N,

Printed by W. Horton for the Company of Stationers, 1695.

The ALMANACK Explained.

I. Under the Festival Days you have the Changes and Quarters of the Moon; wherein, the number signifies the hour: m. Morning. a. afternoon. n. Night.

II. The fourth Column on the left hand Pages shews every day in the year, how many minutes and seconds a pendulum Clock or Watch goes too fast, or too slow. Example. On the 10 of March. the Pendulum will go 7 m. 28". too fast; On the 10 of May 4 m. 5". too slow. But then the Clock, &c. is to be set Exactly to the true time, on the 4 of April; or 6 June; or 21 August; or 13 December; because on those days the Equation is just nothing.

III. Under Sun-rising and setting, the minutes are in the middle: Example, On the 10 of January you find 7 50 5. which shews the ☉ rises 50 m. after 7 in the morning, and sets 50 min. before 5 at night.

IV. In the Column of the length of days and nights again, the 6th of March, you find 11 36 13, which shews the day is 11 h. 36 m. long, and the night 13 h. wanting 36 m.

V. To find the Ho. of the N. by the shadow of the moon on a Sun-dial add the Hours and min. of the Moons Southing to the time of the shadow on the Dial, the Sum (abating 12 H. where it may be) is the true time of the Night.

TO THE
High and Mighty Princess MART II.
Queen of England, Scotland, France and Ireland.

M A D A M,

TO you the Blessing of the British Isle,
Who gave us Peace, and sav'd our Land from Spoil;
Who sav'd us when our Hopes in Man were lost;
And of your kindness made us timely boast.
Redeem'd us from th' Oppressions of the Great,
Redeem'd our sinking and decayed State.

'Tis you Great QUEEN we on our knees implore,
Who did indeed the Nation's Joy restore;
Made Tyranny like melting Snow be gone,
Like Fogs and Mists dispersed by the Sun.
What e're can be, unto a Victor due,
Great Madam, here is tender'd unto you;
God set the Crown upon your Royal Head,
And made your Feet on hallow'd Ground to tread.

Can we then be Ingrateful or forget
How 'twas you sav'd us from the Snare and Net?
Or can we silent be, and not admire
The gentle Flames of Joves surprizing Fire?
Whilst we behold the happy Scene appears,
The Dazling Glories of succeeding years.

Yet head-strong wretched witless People strive:
The Product of Hell's Womb, i'th Dark contrive;
Treasons more Black than horrid pitchy Night,
Or th' Dark Abyss, which yet ne're saw the Light;
Dislike and Curse, because Heaven's Choise you are,
Confound themselves, their makers work to marr.
Like Jacob's faithless Progeny of Old,
Who from their God, themselves to Devils sold.
Refus'd his Scepter, and Rebell'd for sight,
Despis'd their Birth-right, did in Chains delight.

But now the Darker Fantoms of the Night
Flee from the fulgid presence of the Light.
Hating the heat and active Life of Fire,
To the Cold Regions do in haste retire.
Precipitate themselves in mighty haste,
And sink into an infinite of waste.
Where the Dread Vision's lost, and all its race,
And an Eternal Substance takes its place.

He who of late was forc'd into Exile,
His Fortunes Ruin'd, and himself a Spoil;

In unknown places wandred for repose;
Who peace of Soul, than substance rather chose:
Makes his approach: who some years lately past,
Did in these words yo'ur Majesty accost.

You that from Ruine sav'd us, you the brave,
Must in our hearts a just memorial have.
With tuneful numbers, Souls exalted Sing,
And we with Joy our humble Offerings bring.
Three Nations, all at once, submissive lye,
And supplicants are to your Majesty,

When all the Damnd infernal powers of Hell,
Combin'd in one with Negromantick spell,
To Rob the Kingdom's heir, and to exclude
From th' English Crown, the stock of Royal Blood:
Determin'd an Impossure for the Throne,
Which God and Nature gave you as your own.
The mighty God, who own'd your cause and you,
Broke Hell's Agreement, made the Lofly bow.
And the Admiring crowd beheld and Blest,
Your Majesty, and God, who gave them Rest.

Tho' Traytors gaine you form designs, and Strive,
Heav'n keeps you safe, nor shall their Treasons thrive.
Your Foes are fallen and they shall rise no more,
Spare them the Wretches and the Chase give o'er.
And let them hide within the shades of Night,
Or save themselves by an inglorious flight,
For they abhor both Liberty and Light,
Nor being worth your Majesties least Thought,
Mere abject Animals the scum of nought.

From his high Seat, the mighty one look'd down,
He sing'd out, and chose you for his own,
And by his might did set you on the Throne.
Thus you to early Glories now he brings,
To sway the Fortunes and the Fates of Kings.
No Storm nor Tempest shall your peace molest,
Nor Grief have place within your Royal Brest,
Their Heads * th' Everlasting Mountains vail'd,
And * the perpetual Hills sunk down and fail'd.
Thus Victor-like the proud you overcame,
Yet still you gen'rous are, and still the same.
And thus you on your Foes in Tryumph ride,
And by your goodness still abate their pride.

* So the Ro-mist Church esteems her self.

I am your Majesties most Humble

and Faithful Subject and Servant,

W. SALMON.

Botanologia, Or a Compleat English Herbal in III. Books. Containing
I. English Herbs and Plants, II. English Trees and Shrubs, III. Exoticks, or Outlandish Drugs, so many as are commonly used in Physick, The whole compleated with a Thousand curious and large Cuts, being the Icons or Figures of each Plant, together with, 1. The various Names in Arabick, Greek, Latin, and English. 2. The Kinds, or Species. 3. The Description. 4. The Principal Differences. 5. The Places of Growth. 6. The time of Flowering and Seeding. 7. The Temperature, Properties, and Appropriations. 8. The Specification. 9. The Preparations. 10. The Virtues and Uses, Chymically designed and medicinally applied to all the various Preparations. In Folio. By W. Salmon, Author of this Work. It is now in the Press, and will be expedited with what speed may be. To be sold by the Booksellers of London. It is a great Work, and proves tediouser than was expected, the Cuts prolonging the time, not being fully finished, but it is hasten'd with the greatest industry imaginable. It was design'd to have been published before now, but some unthought of Accident, has retarded it for a while longer, however it may be expected some little time hence.

I have more fruitful Subjects for my pen,
I sing the mighty Nassaw, best of Men,
His daring Acts against a Tyrant King,
The Wise, Bold, Great, the Just, the Good I sing.
His mighty Power gives my Soul the Word,
'Tis you Great King, your Justice and your Sword.

February 1695

The Glory's yours, the Glory of the Day,
Trophies which with your Sword you bear away.
The Victory without delay persue,
And give the hateful Tyrant all his due.

Bear up now Muse: What is it that she sings?

Lewis the Base, and the Disgrace of Kings.

Hee'l in your Camp, as formidable be,
 As when he drown'd the Egyptians in the Sea,
 Make Heav'n and Earth with one united force,
 To smight your Foes with a perpetual Close;
 Whilst Royal Sir, you with your lightning Steel,
 Give to the stupid Foe. a Sense to feel.

V. Against the Green Sickness in Virgins.

Take Filings of Steel one Pound, Spirit of Vinegar 4 Pound, mix and digest 12 days, then put them into a Frying-pan over a gentle fire, continually stirring them till it is dry; put this prepared Steel into Canary 2 quarts or more, adding Cloves one Dram, Cinnamon half an Ounce, digest a month, shaking the Bottle once or twice a day, then decant, and keep it in a Glass close stopp'd for use. Dose from half an Ounce to two Ounces; it opens all Obstructions in the Liver, Spleen, and Womb, and provokes the Terms.

VI. For the Rickets in Children.

Take Raisins stoned, Figs slit, blew Currants, of each a Pound, Liquorice scraped and bruised, Fennel and Parsley root, Hart's tongue of each 8 Ounces, Spring-water 2
 Gallons boil all away to a Gallon

April 1695.

The Toads submit, and for their Lives they pray,

Thus the poor slaves the Hero's Voice obey.

And you'r all Conquering Sword, like Mole's Rod.

Makes Infidels and Tyrants fear your God.

Victory in batt without stretcht Wings does flie,

To reach the Wretches to submit or die.

May 1695.

Your Enemies before your face shall flie,
And those who hate you shall by slaughter die,
Your Royal Name shall in our Mouths be found,
And in your Triumphs shall our Joys abound,
The Gallick Nation, like the Men of Ai,
Shall bow, and fall, and signalize the Day.

June hath xxv Days.

Your Glory Sir, is like the Rising Sun,
And by your Sword shall mighty things be done.
Proceed and smite; by the Decree of fates,
Be judge of Kingdoms, and dispose of States.
From you their Rise or Downfall they assume,
Expecting from your brandisht Sword their Doom.

June 1695

Legions of Angels, in your Tents did lie,
Which made your Adversaries faint and die,
Thus their despairing Numbers gave you place,
With Fear, and Dread, and Paleness in their face.
The Gallick Fury vanish like a Ghost,
And trembling stood before your mighty Host.

The late adored King, by Regal Act,
When he was Crown'd, made us a solemn pact.
The People claim'd his Oath and Royal Word,
But 'stead of them held forth the Lawless Sword.
His Subjects might not their own right dispute,
His Parasites declar'd him absolute.

Declared Gracious, and repured Wife;
Supported by his Subjects Love, not fear,
And in the Hearts of all his People dear.
Thus he the Crown and ravish'd Kingdom seiz'd;
And spight of all our Lams did what he pleas'd.

August hath xxxi days.

But God who heard us Cry, and heard us groan,
Our righteous cause Espoused for his own.
Their holy Plot for the pretended cause,
Made to ensnare us, and o'return our Laws,
He did defeat; and caught in their own snare,
Th' Impostor they design'd the Kingdom's Heir.

Such sanctified Treasurs God esp'd,
And did the depth of their delights deride.
He had a King in store, the Great Nassau,
Whose Right the Kingdom was by Choice and Law.
May he with satisfaction wear the Crown,
Long may live, in Glory and Renown.

Whilst the whole Army of the French lay by,
 You taught your Men their Numbers to despise:
 Their Garisons demolish'd in their fight,
 Whilst they beheld, and did themselves no right.
 They threaten'd a Revenge, and boldly swore,
 But all the Affronts you offer'd tamely bore.

September 1695

Rais'd Beaumone Walls before their Armies Face,
 French Courage kindly taking the Disgrace;
 Not one bold Man out of their Camp did move,
 Nor thought it prudence, Royal Force to prove.
 They valiant are, when that no Foe is near,
 But always weak, when Enemies appear.

Yet tis said the French and others used it before him, in the same Case.

XVIII. The Princes Powder, so much fam'd and talk'd of, against the Tax, &c.

Take Aqua fortis p. ℥. pure Mercurio, p. j. mix and dissolve, then abstract the Spirit to dryness, the precipitate grins upon a Porphyrie, add to it a quarter part of its weight of Oleum Tartari per deliquium, which digest together within four hours, stirring it now and then, upon this percurrified Spirit of Wine, to over-top it an Inch, and deslagrate it, which repeats 20 times, and it is done. It is given in the Yolk of an Egg, or Conserve of Rose, &c.
 The Prince gave in half a Dram to a Dram, which in my Opinion is much too great a Dose, it may be given from 3 Grains to 12 or 20,
 in very strong Bodies.

XIX. A specifick Anodin, against the Gout, and all manner of Pains, &c. Coughs, Colds, and the like.

Take Thebaian Opium 4 Ounces, dissolve it in Juice of Lemons 4 Ounces, mix with half an Ounce of Spirit of Sulphur, digest 24 hours, and pass it through a coarse hair sieve, then

Thus you Great Sir, the Tyrant's force deſe,
And boldly make him give himſelf the lye.

He promis'd the Grand-Seignior Gold and Men,
But perjm'd Lewis kept no Word in Ten.

The Grand-Viſier ſwore then by Mah'met's Soul,
That French M^uſieur was either Knave or Fool.

He promis'd to divert th' Imperial Force,
That Turks next Year, might Act without remorse.
And to the Irish Rebels did pretend,
How much he would assist, and be their Friend:
But Mussleman and Teague found all was Lies,
And trembling did the perjur'd King despise.

'Tis you that from th' Imposture set us free,
Cut off th' entail of Popish Tyrannie;
Deliver'd us, from Popery and its Curse,
Eternal Ruins of Tyrannick force.

You rescu'd our Religion, and the State,

'Twas you retriev'd the wretched Kingdoms Fate.

and grind them well together, then add Oil of Roses half an ounce, Saffron in Powder 3. drams, mix and make an Ointment. Being applied, it brings Wounds, and ill natured Ulcers to digestion in a short time, and so disposes them to a healing.

XXIII. A most excellent Oil against the Gout.

Take Oil of Olive Turpentine, Oil of Spikes, of each 4 ounces, Oils of Rose-mary, of Oranges and Lemon Peels, of each 1 ounce, Camphir 1 ounce and half, mix and dissolve. Apply it as hot as the Patient and Pain can endure it, or but warm on more tender Parts, then bind it up in Flannel moistned with the said mixture; this has succeeded, when all other things have failed; the Sick ought also to purge once a week, either with my Family Pills, or Elixir to carry off the Cause.

XXIV. For the Yellow Jaundice.

Take Goose dung gathered in the Spring in fine Powder 2 ounce. chirek Root in fine Powder 1 Oz. white Sugar-Candy in fine powder 3 ounces, mix them. Dose 2 at a time every morning fasting, and at night going to Bed in in a glass of white wine, or Sider, or good Ale, it commonly does the cure in a weeks time.

From Treason, and th' inexorable Grave,
 May God himself your Royal Person save.
 May Truth and Mercy nee'r from you remove,
 In Glory Reign, and in your People's Love.
 And since our sinking Kingdom you upheld,
 May you its Royal Scepter ever wield.

An ADVERTISEMENT.

Whereas one John Hollier Publisher and pretends to Sell Salmon's Family Pills, under that Name, Effigies and Seal, in many Places of this Kingdom for 12 Pence a BOX: This is to give Notice to all Persons whatsoever, That he assumes my Name, Effigies and Seal, doing it without my Privilege, Allowance, Order or Consent (to my great Prejudice and Damage:) And that I being the Author of the said Family Pills, do both now, and shall for time to come, sell the said Family Pills only for 9 Pence a BOX, I have also made several Alterations and Improvements of the Medicine for the advantage thereof, of which Hollier knows nothing, neither as to the Names, Numbers or Natures of the things added or altered; the Preparation, Parts or Proportion of any thing contained therein. By reason of which Alterations, they neither Vomit nor make Sick, or grieve the Powers in the least; but work more nimbly and pleasantly than formerly, and without any the least danger, being fitted against the most Stubborn and rebellious Diseases, which no other Remedy can cure or help. So that I modestly affirm, That one BOX of these Pills, thus improved and advanced in Virtue and Goodness, are worth five BOXES (for all that I know Ten) of those which Hollier or any else make and sell without my Order in my Name. They are now to be had thus rightly prepared at my House, at the Blew Ball by the Ditch-side near Holborn-bridge, London. Where all such as desire to have or sell them, or my Family Powder or Elixir, (of which Hollier knows nothing at all) may have them (the Pills at 9 d. a BOX, the Powder at 6 d. a Paper, and the Elixir at 2 s. the Glass) and with the Allowance for selling: of which all such as are concerned in their Sale, are hereby desired to take notice.

The World is also desired to remember, That the Advertisement which Hollier, or some of his Accomplices, has put at the end of one of my late published Books, entitled, Select Physical and Chyrurgical Observations, Printed for Thomas Passenger, on London-bridge, (whilst I was absent in the West-Indies) is a base, unworthy and malicious Libel, designedly done to wrong and abuse the Author, and to my very great prejudice; for that I left large quantities of all sorts of my Medicines with my Wife, to be sold in my absence: nor did I ever give Hollier, or any else Leave, Order or Directions to do the same, much less to publish that malicious Advertisement.

I should have been so free as to have declared to the World the present Compulsion of my Family Pills, as also of my Family Powder, and my Elixir, had I not met with such hard measure, and such an unjust and unworthy Treatment: as aforesaid, and therefore humbly beg Excuse of the Publick for this concealment for a Season, till the railing of all Persons shall cease; not doubting, but as there is a time for all things, so a time may come for this their Publication.

THE LONDON Almanack,

For the Year 1695.

By W. Salmon Professor of Physick.

I. Of the Eclipses this Year, 1695.

1. FOUR times will the great Luminaries, or Lights of Heaven suffer a Deliquium or Eclipse this Year, viz. Two of the Sun, and as many of the Moon, which will happen in the Order following.

2. The first Defect will be of the Moon, on May 18. about 10 in the Morning, and therefore as invisible to us. It happens in $\pm 8^{\circ}$. near her North Node, and not far from the Scorpion's Heart.

3. It is in the Second Face of Sagittary, and is the Face of Arms and Religion, of Force and Violence, with a Face of Religion and Piety, but promises no good to the Roman Clergy, but rather their going down the Wind, and their Subjugation under the Secular Power.

4. The Second Eclipse will be of the Sun, on June 1. about 5. at Night, in $\Pi. 21$. and will be visible with us, if the Air be clear; for it is celebrated in the VIII. House.

5. It falls in the Fifth Face of Gemini, which is of the Nature of Saturn and Mercury; and is the face of Contempt, Sorrow, Affliction, and Subtily; it fore-shews Plots and other evil Designs, through Craft, and wicked Machinations: And as it falls in the 8 House in Gemini, it fore-shews a sickly Time in London, I pray God it be not the Plague.

6. The Third will be a Lunar Deliquium, on Novemb. 10. about 8. in the Evening; in $8\ 29^{\circ}$. About a third Part of the Moon's Body will be eclipsed; and if the Air be clear may be seen of us; for it happens in the XI House.

7. It will fall in the Sixth and last Face of Taurus, the Ascendent of Ireland, which is the Face of Sorrow and Trouble, Vexation and Perplexity: And signifies some Unhappiness to the Common People, through the Subtily of Priests, Jesuits, and such as are affected to the Popish Faction, under the Pretences of Friendship.

8. The Fourth and last Eclipse, will be a small one, of the Sun on November 6. about Seven in the Morning in $\angle 15^{\circ}$. But it will be invisible to us, because the Sun will then be below the Horizon, or not risen.

9. It happens in the Fourth Face of Sagittary, which shews the Diminution of Honour and Glory to some great Persons; but by reason it is small and invisible to us, it will have the less Power and Force.

10. An Opposition also of Saturn and Mars will incipiate on August 12th. in ♊ and $\text{♋} 8^{\circ}$. which are the Second Faces of those Signs; and is worthy of Consideration and Observation.

II. The Virtues and Uses of several famous Medicines.

1. Tinctura Succini, Tincture of Amber.

Take Tartarised Spirit of Wine what you please, put to it so much of the best rectified Spirit of Salt, till the Effervescence shall cease, leave them together till the Spirit flows clear; then take the yellow Amber in fine Powder one Pound, of the aforesaid Menstruum, so much as may over-top it 4 Inches; digest together a Week, or till you have a glorious yellow Tincture, which decant; upon the remaining Powder put new Menstruum, so long till it will yield no more Tincture.

It is hot, Cephalick, and good against Diseases of the Head, Brain and Nerves: It stops Catarrhs, is good against the Falling-sickness, Apoplexy, Lethargy, Megrim, Head-ach, Vertigo, Vapors, Fits of the Mother, Inflammation of the Womb; it stops all Fluxes both of Blood and Seed, and is good against the Gonorrhœa both in Men and Women, and indeed is prevalent gainst most Diseases proceeding from Cold and Moisture. Dose $\text{ʒ} 3$ ss ad ʒi, or $\text{ʒ} i$ in some Syrup, as of Cinnamon, or Peony, or in some spirituous Liquor, as Cardamom-water, or the like. Price 2 s. 6 d. an Ounce.

2. Tinctura Sulphuris, Tincture of Sulphur.

Take common Balsam of Sulphur 1 Pound, Rain-water 2 Pounds; mix and distill in a Glass Alembick, in v. M. so will the Aethereal Spirit or Oil of Turpentine ascend with the Water, and leave the true Balsam of Sulphur behind in the bottom; to which affuse the best Tartarised Spirit of Wine, so much as may cover it 4 Inches; digest and extract till the Tincture is of a very high colour, then decant and affuse fresh Spirit, till it will yield no more Tincture; join these Tinctures together, filtrate and abstract two thirds of the Spirit, keeping the Remainder for Use.

It is good against the Yellow-Jaundice, and all Diseases of the Breast and Lungs, as Coughs, Colds, Rheumatisms, Shortness

ness of Breath, Difficulty of breathing, and all sorts of Obstructions or Stoppages of the Pulmonick Parts. It warms, dries, and heals, and therefore is good against Plethicks and Ulcers of the Lungs. Dose a gutt. 10. ad 20. in Ale, Wine, or Milk-water. Price 2 s. 6 d. an Ounce.

3. Aqua Regina Hungarica, Queen of Hungary's Water.

Take Rosemary Flowers, gathered a little after the rising of the Sun, 2 Pounds; put them into a double Vessel, and affuse on them Alcohol, or Farturised Spirit of Wine 3 Pounds; Inc exactly the Joints, and digest in a gentle heat for three Days, then strain out, and distill in Balneo, with a Glass Alembick to the thickness of an extract; so have you in the Receiver a subtil liquor which is the Queen of Hungary's Water. The extract keep by it self.

This is an excellent thing for the head, brain, nerves and joints, it is good against Vertigoes, Apoplexies, Palsies, Cramps, Convulsions, Numbness, Trembling, Pains, Aches and Weaknesses of any part proceeding from Cold, Blows, or Bruises; it preserves the Sight even to old Age You may take it inwardly for all the aforesaid purposes, half a spoonful at a time morning and evening, in a glass of Wine or Ale; and bath it outwardly upon the place; bathed upon the Forehead and Temples, and drawn up the Nostrils it cures the head-ach almost in a moment. Price 6 d. an Ounce.

4. Collyrium Ophthalmicum, The Eye-Wash.

Re. Redified Spirit distilled from Rye bread Camphorated 3 12. Spirit of Sal Armoniack 3 4. Verdigrease prepared 3 6 ll. Saccharum Saturni 3 2; mix, dissolve, filter, and keep it for use. Sometimes we use Roman Vitriol instead of the Verdigrease.

It is an excellent thing for almost all Distempers of the Eyes; it stops Fluxes and Rheums in the Eyes, by being but bathed on the outside of the Eye lids; for other distempers of the Eyes, as films, pearls, clouds, dimness of the sight; some few drops are to be mixt with a little Spring or Well-water, and so to be dropt into the Eyes, or the Eyes washed therewith 3, 4, or 5 times a day. For Suffusions or Cataracts the Water is dropt into them alone without mixture. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

5. Tinctura Anticolica, Tincture against the Colick.

Re. Spirit of Wine a quart, Powers of Aniseeds 3 4. Rheubarb thinly sliced 3 2. Liquorice bruised, Gentian, Cortex Winteranus of each 3 6. digest and make a Tincture according to Art, filter and keep it for use; dulcify with White Sugar-Candy 3 2.

It gives relief in the most intolerable tortions of the Bowels, and cures after a most admirable manner the most vehement Colick; it cures the West-Indian Belly-ach, a Disease accounted by the Physicians of those Parts almost Uncurable; it perfects the Cure though of several months standing, and so absolutely performs it, that it scarcely ever returns any more. It is profitable against all sorts of Fluxes and Bloody Fluxes, healing the Bowels; and against most diseases and weakneses of those parts, yet it gently purges. I commonly give it little ones, and new-born Children, while in the month; for by the use thereof the sharp, black, or green Matter in their Bowels is commonly carried off, which prevents not only present danger, but also future diseases. Dose \dot{a} 3 fl. \dot{a} 3 2. in any convenient Liquor. To Children you may give once, twice, or thrice a day, 12 or 14 drops thereof in a little breast Milk or other Milk. Price 12 pence an Ounce.

6. Tinctura aurea, The Golden Tincture.

R. Spirit of Wine \mathfrak{z} 40. Powers of Aniseeds \mathfrak{z} 4. Powers of Cloves \mathfrak{z} 2. Tincture of Coral compound \mathfrak{z} 1. Pulp of Colocynthis (freed from the seeds, and in gross powder) \mathfrak{z} 4. Choise Rhenubarb thin sliced, fena, ana \mathfrak{z} 1. Cinnamon \mathfrak{z} fl. mix and make a Tincture; pressing out the Liquor hard, add thereto fresh Colocynthis \mathfrak{z} 3. digest, filter, and keep it for use.

It is an excellent Antiscorbutick Purge in a cold Constitution; it carries off Elegm, and all sorts of flegmatick Humours and Water out of the whole Body, is profitable against the Scurvy, Dropsy and Gout in any part wheresoever, and roots out Diseases tho' of long standing; and truly in my Opinion, it is one of the best of Catharticks in Venereal Distempers, for it opposes the morbidick Matter, and carries off the cause to a miracle: It also opens all sorts of Obstructions in Women-kind, and powerfully provokes the Menes. Dose \dot{a} 3 2. \dot{a} 3 4. in any proper Vehicle. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

7. Tinctura Antivenerea, Tincture against the French-Pox.

R. The best Tartarised Spirit of Wine 40 Ounces, Powers of Sassafras 16 Ounces, Cortex Guajaci in powder \mathfrak{z} 12. Rasplings of the Wood \mathfrak{z} 6. Balsam de Tolu \mathfrak{z} 3. mix and make a Tincture.

It is given Dietetically against the Pox, and therefore only used in place of a Diet-drink, in the Venereal Distemper, and the troop of Symptoms accompanying it. It purifies the Blood, and expels all manner of Malignity out of the Humours. Dose \dot{a} 3 1. \dot{a} 3 2. 2 or 3 times a day in a glass of Ale; or oftner if occasion be. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

8. Tinctura Opii Sulphurata, Tincture of Opium Sulphurated.

R. Juice of Citrons a quart, of the best Thebian Opium cut into small bits \mathfrak{z} 8, dissolve over a gentle heat and strain through a hair Cloath or Sieve; then evaporate to the consistence of an Extract, thick thick like new Honey, upon which affuse the following Menstruum: Take Spirit of Wine a quart, pure Oil of Sulphur per Campanum $\frac{3}{4}$ 1. mix Gradatim, and with it extract a Tincture from the former extract by digestion in a very gentle heat for 14 days, then decant the clear, and keep it for use.

It is an excellent thing against the Cholick, griping of the Guts, Wind, pain of the Stomack and Spleen, sharp and corroding Humours in the Bowels, and all other pains whatsoever in any part of the Body. It cures the flux of the Liver, overflowing of the Menfes, &c. in Women, and is a famous remedy to prevent Miscarriage. It is a Medicine which may be given in the Measles and Small-Pox, with singular advantages to Children, as to Elder Persons both Men and Women, and always with so good success, that I do not remember one that has died of those diseases which has taken it. It is an excellent Remedy also against the Gout, whether in Hands, Arms, Hips, Knees, Legs or Feet, as also for all such as are afflicted with vehement and painful Rheumatisms, pains from the Scurvy, or Pox, Sciatica, Agues of all Sorts, and other diseases arising from sharp and vitious humours. It cures the Tooth-ach, being held in the mouth, and cures the Plague or Pestilence, Spotted-fever, and other like infectious diseases. Dose $\frac{d}{gut}$. 20. ad 60. or more, according to Age and Strength in Wine, Ale, or Water, at Night going to Bed. Price Eighteen pence an Ounce.

III. Several choice Remedies against the Plague.

1. A Preservative against the Plague.

Rx. OF the best rectified Spirit of Wine four pound, Jamaica Pepper $\frac{3}{4}$ iij, Virginian Snake root, Contrayerva, Cortex-Winteranus, Cinnamon. Bay-berries, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ ij. Gentician, Cubebs, Zedoary, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ i fl Cloves, Mace, Nutmegs, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ fl. Ginger, Saffron, Cochinele, Camphire, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ 2, mix and digest ten days in a Glass close stopped, shaking it every day; then let it settle, and pour off the clear Tincture, which keep close stoppt in another glass for use. Dose half a Spoonful in a Glass of Sack, or other Vehicle, Morning, Noon, and Night.

2. An Antidote for the Cure of the Plague.

Rx. Mithridate $\frac{3}{4}$ i. Salt of Harts-horn gr. 15. Bezoar mineral gr. 8. mix, and give it the Sick; after which let them take a little Treacle water, or Aqua Bezoarica: let them be in bed, and sweat upon it. Or this Pouder. Rx. Bezoar mineral $\frac{3}{4}$ 3. Sal prunellæ $\frac{3}{4}$ 2 Camphire $\frac{3}{4}$ 1. mix and make a

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

3 A Treacle-Water against the Plague.

R. Of the best rectified Spirit of Wine four pound, of the best Mithridate, or Our Antidote $\frac{3}{8}$. mix them well together, digest ten days and decant the clear Tincture. To this Tincture add its equal quantity of Rhenish-Wine, or choice Canary, and so keep it for use. This will be good Treacle-Water. You may make it stronger, if you add more of the Treacle or Antidote, if you so please.

4 Another Antidote against the Plague.

R. Extract of Gentian $\frac{3}{4}$. Mithridate or our Antidote $\frac{3}{2}$. Camphire, or Bezoar-mineral, ana $\frac{3}{6}$. Saffron, Cochinele in Powder, ana $\frac{3}{2}$. mix and make an Electuary. Dose $\frac{3}{1}$ ff. the Patient being in Bed, and sweating upon it, drinking after it also a little of the former Treacle-Water.

5 Another Antidote of extraordinary Virtue.

R. Of our Pulvis Anti febricitus, or Fever-Powder (the Preparation of which you have in our Phylaxa Medicina, cap. 45. Sect. 1.) $\frac{3}{1}$ ff. more or less, according to the Age of the Sick, dissolve it in $\frac{3}{4}$. or 6. of Ale, Rhenish-wine or Canary, well sweetned with Sugar, and give it in the Morning fasting, and at Night going to bed, for Prevention: But for Cure, at any other time most requisite, making the sick to sweat upon it. It is inferior to no other Antidote in the World.

6 A Cataplasme to break a Plague-Sore.

R. Common Salt decripitated and ground fine, Mithridate, Figs, ana $\frac{3}{2}$. Soap $\frac{3}{4}$, Hens dung, Turpentine, ana $\frac{3}{2}$. beat all well together, and apply it. This will not deceive you in your Expectation, for it will break any pestilential Bubo or Swelling, and turn out a Carbuncle; it strongly draws the Malignity, and makes it fit to be cured by any ordinary Medicine.

7. A Cataplasme more powerful.

Take unstickt Lime, black Soap, mix and apply them. Barber saith, there is none that is more corrosive than this, and yet causes lesser pain, being much better than the actual Cautey: The Bubo being opened, it ought to be kept running for 5 or 6 Weeks, that all the Malignity may come forth.

IV. To make the Essence of Poppies and Elecampane.

1. TAKE a great quantity of the whole Plant, when it is in its prime, which is when the Poppy is in its Flower, beat it well in a Marble, Iron, Wooden or Brasse Mortar, and reduce to an impalpable Pap, as much as may be, put it into seal up well (or fix a blind head to it, and lute well the Juncture) digest in Horse-dung, or a Sand-heat of equal strength, for 40 days; then open the Vessel and strain out the thinner parts by pressing, which will be a kind of slimy Liquor: Digest this again in a very gentle Sand-heat, or rather in B. M. that there may be a Residence of the grosser Parts: this thinner separate again by Inclination, which perfectly purify, by adding to every quart of the Liquor from half an Ounce to an Ounce of its own fixt Salt; or for want of the same, as much pure Salt of Tartar: Digest again for forty days, then separate the pure from the impure, and keep the Essence for use in a Glass close stopp'd. It will keep a long time, and be as it were incorruptible. Dose from a quarter of a Spoonful to half a Spoonful. The Essence of Plants made after this manner will be transparent, either of an Emerald Green, or a delicate reddish Colour, according to the quantity and quality of the Salt, Sulphur and Mercury predominating in each Plant.

2. This is a most admirable Medicine against all Surfeits whatsoever, as also against all manner of vehement and almost intolerable pains of the Cholick, Gout, Stone, or other latent Dolors in any part of the Body from Head to Foot, by taking it inwardly as aforesaid in a Glass of Ale or Wine, and so reposing upon it; also bathing the Place outwardly with the same, and applying a cloth wet therein upon the part. This Medicine is also excellent against all manner of Coughs and Colds, stops all manner of Fluxes of blood in any part, and the overflowing of the Menfes in Women: And effectually cures any Flux of the Belly whatsoever.

3. If in the last digestion you added to every quart of the Liquor black Pepper in fine powder 2. Ounces: Camphire half an Ounce dissolved in half a pint of Spirit of Wine, and then continue the digestion as aforesaid for the said forty days, you will have a most incomparable Medicine, and much more effectual to all the Intentions aforesaid.

To make the Essence of Elecampane.

4. After the same manner you may make the Essence of green Elecampane-roots, to which it will be necessary to add in the making for every pound of the Root, Water half a pint, good Brandy a quarter of a pint, and then to proceed by the former Method, digesting and separating the thinner parts by pressing out, and then digesting again with its own Salt, or Salt of Tartar, and at last separating the pure Essence for Use. It is a most admirable thing against Coughs

Colds, Asthma's Obstructions of the Lungs, Hoarseness, and other Distempers of the Brest and Stomach; you may take of it from a Spoonful to two or three, either alone, or in a Glas of Ale or Wine, Morning and Night; or two or three times a day, according as the Cough troubles you.

5. If you cannot get the green Root, you may take the dried Root, cut it into thin chips, and make a strong decoction of it in water, which being strained out and sweetened with a little sugar or honey is a most excellent thing for the same purpose; or rather make the Root into fine powder, and to every four Ounces of powder put a quart of Spirit of Wine, digest a Month in a gentle sand-heat, shaking the Glas every day: at last let it settle well, and decant off the clear Tincture for use. Dose a Spoonful or better either alone or mixt in a Glas of Ale. It will be a good way after the Tincture is decanted off, to mix with every pint of it 2 Ounces of white Sugar-candy: This Tincture is a Medicine that cannot be valued enough, for any vehement Cough or Cold, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, Difficulty of Breathing, Obstructions of the Lungs, Pleurittick Pains, and the like, for which I commend it as a great Secret.

V. Genealogical Considerations.

1. AS in our Hora Mathematica, lib. 2. cap. 20. we have shewn a Progressive Method of Directions from the Diurnal Motions of the Planets every day; wherein every day forward from the day of Birth; either signifies a Year, as in the place cited we have declared; or else a month, as in its proper Place we have explicated: So also there is a Regressive Method (as a very ingenious Person has been pleased to take notice of) in the same Proportion or Measure of Time, allowing a day to signify both a Year and a Month backwards, before the Native was born, from the day of Birth in like manner.

2: This seems to be a Circle like that of the Antiscions respecting the Tropicks; for here, in this, the Day and Moment of Birth is as it were a Center, at least a fixed and limited point, which all the Heavenly Bodies, as well Retro-Aspect as Prospect, and look as well before-hand to it, as behold it after it.

3. The Reason in part is evident; for if Causes go not without their Effects, the Act of the Birth and all the things belonging to it succeeding it, can only be estimated as a continued Series of Effects, produced by an answerable Series of

Causes going before them, and antecedent to the day of Birth; but because we propose this as a proposition only to be considered of, and by experience to be observed whether it be true or false; and if true, how near it comes to truth, or wherein or in what parts or branches thereof it may vary from it, we shall say no more here in defence thereof, but leave it to be received or rejected, as every one by their Observations shall find reason for.

4. Having therefore drawn the Figure into a Speculum, consider every Year current preceding the day of Birth, (accounting a day for a year) what every Planet transits in the Speculum, (always in this Case going upwards and backwards in the said Speculum, as in the former you went forwards and downwards) and note that, Then consider the Places of the Planets for that day, as also the Planets Diurnal Motion, and how much the Promissor's Place exceeds, or is less than the Planets Place at the aforesaid time. Then say as the Planets diurnal Motion is to 365 days, so are the minutes of excess or defect, to the days of the accident, to be accounted from the day of the present year, which the day of Birth happened on.

5. But to direct the Ascendent or M. C. to any Promissor, observe the motion of the promissor backwards, before or from the time of birth, and direct as aforesaid the said promissor to those points (which are either the places themselves, or) which are in exact Sextile, Quartile, Trine, or Opposition to the said Significators, so have you the time of the Direction in years and days.

6. The Lunar directions, and directions from the mutual Aspects, are contained on the right hand Page of the Ephemeris, with their exact time of Incidence; for (if the Ephemeris is calculated for the Meridian of Birth) subtract the time of the Aspects or directions Incidence in the Ephemeris (against that day signifying or answering to the number of years current) from the hours and minutes P. M. at time of Birth, the remaining time (allowing two hours for a Month, and four minutes for a day) point out the true time of the directions operating.

7. Now as the Annual Directions are taken from the diurnal motion of the Sun, wherein every day from the day of birth backwards, signifies so many years; so the mensural directions are taken from the diurnal motion of the Moon, wherein every day from the day of birth backwards, signifies so many months.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

8. The Figure then being drawn into a Speculum, consider every day current and going backwards (accounting a day for a month) what every Planet transits in the Speculum, and note the same; for they are the concurring directions of the respective months sought after.

9. On the right hand Page also of the Ephemeris, observe the Incidence of all the Aspects, whether Lunar or Mutual, for the same days, and note them: Then (if the Ephemeris be calculated for the Meridian of Birth, or any Place near it) subtract the time of the Aspects Incidence in the Ephemeris (against that day answering to the number of months current) from the time of the Birth in hours and minutes P. M. the remainder is the Arch of Direction; which (allowing 1 hour for 2 day, 6 h. for 7 d. 12 h. for 14 d. 18 h. for 21 d. and 24 h. for the whole 28 d.) points out the exact time when the said directions will be in power and force.

10. If the Native was born whether in the Forenoon or Afternoon, and the Aspect happening the same day was after the hour of Birth, that Aspect or direction is to be accounted as a direction of the preceding day or month; and therefore,

11. Account no Aspect or Direction in the compass of the present month current you enquire about, but such as shall fall before the hour of Birth. And as you begin your month at the time the ☾ enters the same point of Heaven she was in at Birth, so begin the day answering to the month current desired, at the hour of Birth, accounting on to 24 h. backward, to the same time of the preceding day.

12. If the Native was born at Noon, you have no more to do then, but to subtract the hours of the aspects or directions incidence from 24, the remainder, without any more trouble, is the true Arch of Direction sought for.

13. Lastly, This is also to be noted, That having made an estimate of the Years of the Native's life, all the directions happening every day, preceding the day of Birth to the end of the days answering to that estimate of years, have a double measure of time: The first Annual, from the diurnal Motion of the Sun: The second Mensural, from the diurnal motion of the Moon. And being directed for the one, they serve without any new performance) for the other varying only the measure of time in the arch of direction, as your Reason will sufficiently inform you.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

VI. Monthly Observations on the YEAR 1695.

JANUARY.

GREAT Preparations for the War are made,
And subtil Counsels to advance the Trade.
The Hand of Vengeance closely does pursue,
With Famine and Distress a wretched Crew.
Disorders grow with Discontents and Jarrs,
And the Cœlestials speak of nought but Wars.
Deep Thoughts have they who mighty Scepters wield,
Great Consultations in this Month are held.
Some curst Design will unto light be brought,
There is a Key to the most secret Thought.
Who could believe the things our Eyes do see?
Or find a single Traytor out in Three?

FEBRUARY.

What are the Counsels Heav'n does approve,
What is the Order of the Fates above?
Can peace be hop'd for whilst the Tyrant reigns?
Can ought but Blood wash out his bloody Stains?
His Drinking and Carousing humane Blood,
Still puts a Counter-balance to our Good.
There is a Congress of the Men of State,
Who talk of Peace, and all of Peace debate.
But what of Peace whilst Jezebel does live?
And why a Peace to him that Blood does give?
The Gallick Tyrant for no Peace can hope,
There is no Peace to Tyrant, King or Pope.

MARCH.

The mighty and the lofty One above,
With Scenes of War, the Nations still does prove.
And on His Throne determine things and sees;
And Spight of Tyrants will do what He please.
If He deligns, who is't that dares gain-say?
If He commands who dares to disobey?
The Fates of mortal Men, 'tis he that sets;
And now he makes one lose, another gets.
Some mighty Men transact th' Affairs of State,
And rise to Grandure with the Peoples hate.
They rise and fall, and in short time are not,
This is their wretched Portion and their Lot.

APRIL.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

The Gallick-Barthen grows more heavy still,
And Tyrant Lewis drinks of Blood his Fill.
He's not exempt from the Decree of Fate,
His Perjur'd Person, nor his Tyrant State.
Heav'n will no Bribes receive; do what is just:
And Kings reward according to their Trust.
Can he then hope for Peace, who baths his Sword
In humane Blood, and's perjur'd to his Word?
No, no: His Glory in the Dust is laid,
Base Lewis shall in his own Coin be paid.

M A Y.

England triumphs, and does in Glory spread,
Her Genius looks, as risen from the Dead.
And this seems now as if design'd to be
The Prodromus of our Felicity.
For all the Constellations do combine,
To have a Share in this same great Design.
Cesar's triumphant Fleet the Sea does ride,
And by its Force abates the French-Man's Pride.
They plough the Ocean, range without controul,
Whilst Monsieur sneaks, and creeps into a hole.
They seek the Coward-Foe, but none can find,
The Sea's their own, their way's with e'ry Wind.

J U N E.

Some talk of Peace, but Signs of War appear:
On Coward-French, are only Marks of Fear.
Their Pageant-Glory suffers a Rebate,
Base and Perfidious Lewis fears his Fate.
Great Armies do approach, yet there's no Hope;
The French-Man dares not trust his God, the Pope.
Such are the Fates of mortal Men, some rise,
And others fall, who think themselves more wise.
The Grand Prefages of this Month do call,
Some great ones to be mindful of their Fall.
And fall they must; the Secret is reveal'd;
The Treason's out which was in Hell conceal'd.

J U L Y.

Did not Great Jove his Sovereign Power unite,
Mankind would make but one continued Fight.
Such are the perverse Minds of humane Race,
In Blood and Murther all their good they place.
Some Battle's near, or some unhappy Town,
Does feel the Weight of our Great Monarch's Frown.
In Dust and Ashes all their Craft is laid.

What signifies their Fleet, their Men of War,
Before the great Nassaw, they dare not stir;
But only as a Thief that shuns the Light,
They run away, they dare not stay to fight.

AUGUST.

The Gallick Greatness droops and stands in Awe,
He humbly bows who would observe no Law.
And Rome with Opposition meets; the Pope,
Who gave him Comfort, now is out of Hope.
The Holy See waits a successors Place,
Europe's Affairs for better change their Face.
For Peace 'tis Lewis begs, no Peace obtains,
Ideas of Peace ar'n't formed whilst he reigns.
He begs and prays, intreats without Success,
His Tyrant-Actions Peace can never bless.
No Peace to France, without the Tyrant's Fall,
No Subject 'tis, nor comes not at his Call.

SEPTEMBER.

A secret Trap for Traytors now is laid:
In their own way exactly they are paid.
'Tis Policy sometimes to try and prove;
'Tis Prudence sometimes to pretend to love.
'Tis wisely done, to see, and not to see:
And seem a Fool, rather than Fool to be.
But mark the Traytor, and behold his Fate,
Under his Prince's Wrath, the Peoples Hate.
He bows indeed, and so is forc'd to do;
Whom Treason drives can no ways chuse, but go.
Our Monarch nothing fears, that God, who gave Him former Triumphs, certainly will save.

OCTOBER.

Mankind's Destroyer, now himself's destroy'd;
The Crown is vacant, and the Monarch's void.
The whole French Nation's sick, 'tis sick, diseas'd;
And with a Gangrene of its parts its seiz'd.
The only way t' its Health, is to divide;
To amputate, or make the Wound more wide.
No hopes for Peace, 'tis all without Effect:
Men may propose, but God alone direct.
Th' ungrateful French grow proud, insult, and swell;
Their Land's destroy'd, their King sent down to Hell;
Thus 'tis with those who in their might do trust:
Thus Tyrants fall, God cannot be unjust.

NOVEMBER.

NOVEMBER.

The Savoyard is Master of his own,
Peace make large Steps unto the Spanish Crown.
But 'tis thro' craggy Way it makes advance;
It Passage finds thro' Ruines of proud France.
Europe's Disturber meets his fatal Doom,
The utmost Period of his Kingdom's come.
May all such Tyrants fall into the Snare,
And in the Traps be taken, they prepare.
Who sows to Peace of Peace the Fruit shall find,
Who Discord makes, shall Loser be i'th'end.
The Turkish Power veils, and does intreat,
And French-like, ceases henceforth to be great.

DECEMBER.

Let us rejoice, who were to Ruine sold,
Justice does now the Royal Scepter hold.
Under our Fig-trees, and our Vines we sit,
Our Monarch's Arms have found a safe Retreat.
He, who redeem'd us by his mighty Power,
Makes hop'd-for Peace accost us every Hour.
We can no more with foreign Poes be vext,
Nor with Domestick Fears our Minds perplext.
This Safety he indulg'd us with his Sword,
And for the same has given his Royal Word.
With open Hearts and Tears of Joy, we sing,
William the Great: long Life unto the King!

ADVERTISEMENTS.

I. THE Family-Pills, and Family-Powder. Both these Medicines are fitted for the Cure of the same Diseases, but the Pills work more gently; the Powder more strongly, yet both very safely, and may be given to Old or Young, whether Man, Woman, or Child, being given in a fit Dose. The Design of having both Pills and Powder, is this, That they who cannot swallow the Pills, may take the Powder; and they who cannot take the Powder, may make use of the Pills, they being universal Purgers. These famous Family-Pills and Family-Powder, are eminent for the Cure, not only of the afore-named Diseases, but also of Agues, Green-sickness, Catarrhs, Head-ach, Lethargy, Rheumy Eyes, Stinking-Breath, want of Appetite, Illness of Stomach, stuffing at Stomach, Vomiting, Fluxes, Foulness of Stomach, Hard-drinking, Sea-sicknesses, Urine stop'd, Barrenness, Sciatica, Numbness, French-Pox, Gonorrhoea, Swellings, Lameness, Pain in any Part, Pusles, Wheals, Bitches, Scabs, Itch, Tettars, Ring-worms, Morpew, Leprosie, Mange, salt Humours, all Breakings out, Running sores, old Ulcers, Fistula's, Jaundice, King's-Evil, Worms, &c.

II. Our Elixir. This our, Universal Elixir, we invented for the Sake of such as could not take our Family-Pills, nor Powder; it is indeed, a most admirable Medicine for the Cure of the Scurvy, Dropsie, Gout, Jaundice, Rheumatism, King's Evil, and Worms: and indeed may be given in any of the Cases, in which the said Pills and Powder may be given; besides which, this Elixir cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma's, Shortness of Breath, Pricks, Stiches, Pleurisies, Spleen, Mother-fits, Costiveness, Collick, Gripping of the Guts, Bloody-flux, Stone, Gravel, Strangury, Sharpness and Heat of Urine, Womens Diseases, Megrims, Convulsions, Melancholy, Frensie, Madnes, Vertigo, Apoplexy, Lethargy, Palsie, Falling-sickness, Trembling, Weakness, Dimness of Sight, Deafness, Consumption, weak Backs, Rickets, Green-sickness, Wind, Fevers, Calentures, Small-Pox, Measles, Poison and Surfeits.

III. If any Shop-keeper in any Part of England, desires to Sell my Family-Pills, or Family-Powder, or Elixir; they are only to be had rightly prepared by my own hand, at my House, at the Blew-Ball by the Ditch-side, near Holbourn-bridge, London, and no where else, with printed Directions for use. The Price of a Box of Pills is only 9 Pence; of a Paper of Powder 6 Pence, and of a Glass of Elixir 2 s. sending to me at my House afore said, they may be constantly had, and a proportional Gain shall be allowed for the Sale of each Particular.

The ALMANACK Explained.

I. Under the Festival Days you have the Changes and Quarters of the Moon; wherein, the number signifies the hour: m. Morning. a. afternoon. n. Night.

II. The fourth Column on the left hand Pages shews every day in the year, how many minutes and seconds a pendulum Clock or Watch goes too fast, or too slow. Example. On the 10 of March. the Pendulum will go 7 m. 28". too fast; On the 10 of May 4 m. 5". too slow. But then the Clock, &c. is to be set Exa^tly to the true time, on the 4 of April; or 6 June; or 21 August; or 13 December; because on those days the Equation is just nothing.

III. Under Sun-rising and setting, the minutes are in the middle: Example, On the 10 of January you find 7 50 5. which shews the ☉ rises 50 m. after 7 in the morning, and sets 50 min. before 5 at night.

IV. In the Column of the length of days and nights against the 6th of March, you find 11 36 13, which shews the day is 11 h. 36 m. long, and the night 13 h. wanting 36 m.

V. To find the Ho. of the N^o. by the shadow of the moon on a Sun-dial, add the Hours and min. of the Moons Southing to the time of the shadow on the Dial, the Sum (abating 12 H. where it may be) is the true time of the Night

High and Mighty Princess MART II.
Queen of England, Scotland, France and Ireland.

M A D A M,

TO you the Blessing of the British Isle,
Who gave us Peace, and sav'd our Land from Spoil,
Who sav'd us when our hopes in Man were lost,
And of your kindness made us timely boast,
Redeem'd us from th' Oppressions of the Great,
Redeem'd our sinking and decayed State.

'Tis you Great QUEEN we on our knees implore,
Who did indeed the Nation's Joy restore,
Made Tyranny like melting Snow be gone,
Like Fogs and Mists dispersed by the Sun.
What e're can be, unto a Victor due,
Great Madam, here is tender'd unto you.
God set the Crown upon your Royal Head,
And made your feet on hallow'd Ground to tread.

Can we then be Ingrateful or forget
How 'twas you sav'd us from the Snare and Net?
Or can we silent be, and not admire
The gentle Flames of Joves surprizing Fire?
Whilst we behold the happy Scene appears,
The Dazling Glories of succeeding years.

Yet head-strong wretched witless People strive:
The Product of Hell's Womb, i'th Dark contrive,
Treasons more Black than horrid pitchy Night,
Or th' Dark Abyss, which yet ne're saw the Light.
Dislike and Curse, because Heaven's Choise you are,
Confound themselves, their makers work to marr.
Like Jacob's faithless Progeny of Old,
Who from their God, themselves to Devils Sold.
Refus'd his Scepter, and Rebel'd for spight,
Despis'd their Birth-right, did in Chains delight.

But now the Darker Fantoms of the Night
Flee from the fulgid presence of the Light.
Hating the heat and active Life of Fire,
To the Cold Regions do in haste retire.
Precipitate themselves in mighty haste,
And sink into an infinite of waste.

Where the Dread Visi^on's lost, and all its race,
And an Eternal Substance takes its place,

He who of late was forc'd into Exile,
His Fortunes Ruin'd, and himself a Spoil;

In unknown places wandred for repose;
Who peace of Soul, than substance rather chose:
Makes his approach: who some years lately past,
Did in these words to ur Majesty accost.

You that from Ruine sav'd us, you the brave,
Must in our hearts a just memorial have.
With tuneful numbers, Souls exalted Sing,
And we with Joy our humble Offerings bring.
Three Nations all at once, submissive lye,
And supplicants are to your Majesty.

When all the Damn'd infernal powers of Hell,
Combin'd in one with Negromantick spell,
To Rob the Kingdom's heir, and to exclude
From th' English Crown, the stock of Royal Blood:
Determin'd an Imposture for the Throne,
Which God and Nature gave you as your own.
The mighty God, who own'd your cause and you,
Broke Hell's Agreement, made the Lofly bow.
And the Admiring crowd beheld and Blest,
Your Majesty, and God who gave them Rest.

Tho' Traytors 'gainst you form designs, and Strive,
Heav'n keeps you safe, nor shall their Treasons thrive.
Your Foes are fallen and they shall rise no more,
Spare them the Wretches and the Chafe give o'er.
And let them hide within the shades of Night,
Or save themselves by an inglorious flight,
For they abhor both Liberty and Light,
Nor being worth your Majesties least Thought,
Mere abject Animals the scum of naught.

From his high Seat, the mighty one look'd down,
He sing'd our, and chose you for his own,
And by his might did set you on the Throne.
Thus you to early Glories now he brings,
To sway the Fortunes and the Fates of Kings.
No Storm nor Tempest shall your peace molest,
Nor Grief have place within your Royal Brest,
Their Heads * th' Everlasting Mountains vail'd,
And * the perpetual Hills sunk down and fail'd.
Thus Victor-like the proud you overcame,
Yet still you gen'rous are, and still the same.
And thus you on your Foes in Tryumph ride,
And by your goodness still abate their pride.

So the Remish Church expects her self.

*I am your Majesties most Humble
and Faithful Subject and Servant,*

W. SALMON

Botanologia, Or a Compleat English Herbal in III. Books. Containing I. English Herbs and Plants. II. English Trees and Shrubs. III. Exoticks, and Outlandish Drugs, so many as are commonly used in Physick. The whole compleated with a Thousand curious and large Cuts, being the Icons or Figures of each Plant, together with, 1. The various Names in Arabick, Greek, Latin, and English. 2. The Kinds, or Species. 3. The Description. 4. The principal Differences. 5. The Places of Growth. 6. The time of Flowering and Seeding. 7. The Temperature, Properties, and Appropriations. 8. The Specification. 9. The Preparations. 10. The Virtues and Uses. Chymically designed and medicinally applied to all the various Preparations. In Folio. By W. Salmon, Author of this Work. It is now in the Press, and will be expedited with what speed may be. To be sold by the Booksellers of London. It is a great Work, and proves tediouser than was expected, the Cuts prolonging the time, not being all finished but it is hastened with the greatest industry imaginable. It was designed to have been published before now, but some unthought of Accident, has retarded it for a while longer; however it may be expected some little time hence.

Poërick Rage I need not, nor a Quill
 Extracted from Pegasian Wings to fill
 My vacant Lines, nor Clio's help I need,
 Nor any thought from the Inspired Breed.
 Nor Helicon, its ever flowing Stream,
 To raise my daring Muse unto my Theam,

January 1695.

I have more fruitful Subjects for my pen,
 I sing the mighty Nassaw, best of Men.
 His daring Acts against a Tyrant King,
 The Wise, Bold, Great, the Just, the Good I sing.
 His mighty Power gives my Soul the Word,
 'Tis you Great King, your Justice and your Sword.

I. Balsamum de Chili.
It is an excellent natural Balsam differing both from that of Peru and Tolu, but no ways, inferior in Virtues and excellency as the several hundreds of Experiments lately made of it, in the curing of many deplorable Diseases, (as inward Bruises, Ulcers of the Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Coughs, Colds, Consumptions, Gouts, Pains, Sciatica, or any outward Ach, Pain, or Bruise in any part of the Body; also the Stone and Gravel, both in the Reins and Bladder, Cholick, and Gripping of the Guts,) have given evident demonstration of. It heals all manner of green Wounds, Ulcers, old running Sores, Pustules and Hurts of the Nerves in any parts whatsoever at 2 or 3 times dressing, sometimes at one application. It is a thing so absolutely necessary in a House, that no Family ought to be without it. It cures Lamness, shrunk up Sinews, Convulsions, Cramps, King's Evil, Swellings and Sores, softens scirrhus Tumors, and after an admirable manner, not only gives ease, but cures the Piles (if not broke) at 2 or 3 times, anointing. It is not to be had at any of the Shops of the Apothecaries or Druggists, but is disposed of by the Merchant; and now only to be had at my house at the blew Ball by the Ditch-side, near Holbourn-bridge London, at 24s. the Pound, or 10 Pence the Ounce.

February hath xxviii days.

Hale awful Prince, go on, and prosper still,
And with your dread the Gallick Nation fill.
The God that does your Cause Esponse will blest,
And Glut your Conquering Sword, with all Success,
Lewis, the perjurd Tyrant and the Base,
For Crimes Dethrone, and his accursed Race,

February 1695

The Glory's yours, the Glory of the Day,
Trophies which with your Sword you bear away.
The Victory without delay pursue,
And give the hateful Tyrant all his due.

Bear up now Muse: What is it that she sings?
Lewis the Base, and the Disgrace of Kings.

Hee'l in your Camp, as formidable be,
As when he drown'd the Egyptians in the Sea,
Make Heav'n and Earth with one united force,
To smight your Foes with a perpetual Curse.
Whilst Royal Sir, you with your lightning Steel,
Give to the stupid Foe a Sense to feel.

April 1695.

*The Toads submit, and for their Lives they pray,
Thus the poor slaves the Hero's Voice obey:
And you'r all Conquering Sword, like Mose's Rod.
Makes Infidels and Tyrants fear your God.
Victory in haste without stretch'd Wings does flie,
To teach the Wretches to submit or die.*

*Your Enemies before your face shall flee,
And those who hate you shall by slaughter die,
Your Royal Name shall in our Mouths be found,
And in your Triumphs shall our Joys abound,
The Gallick Nation like the Men of Ai,
Shall bow, and fall, and signalize the Day.*

IX. For the Jaundice.

Take fresh Gales Dung 2 ounces, white Dung of Hens 3 Drams, Volatile Salt of Hart-horn 1 Drams, Juice of Celandine half an ounce, mix and make an Electuary. Dose 2 drams, every morning fasting in a glass of Wine or Treacle-water, and sweating well upon it. I cured a Woman of the deepest Jaundice that ever I saw, by giving her my Volatile Laudanum 3, 4, or 6 grains every night, and sweating well upon it, she was perfectly well in about 3 Weeks time.

X. To stop a vomit or Vomiting.

Take Salt of Wormwood (and it is possible that Salt of Tartar, or any other alcalious Salt may do) 1 Spoonfull, Juice of Limon 2 Spoonfulls, mix and give it morning and evening, or in the Paroxysm, and in the interim 2 ounces or 3 of mint Water alone without any addition.

XI. A Vomit against the Scurvey.

I commend my Catharticum Argentum, as a most excellent thing because it admirably evacuates both upwards and downwards; but they have not that may use an Infusion of Crocus made with wine from half an ounce to 6 Drms. in a thick Pallet drink, or Myrsell's Tartar emetic, from 4 grains to 6, but for weaker Constitutions, you may give Gula Theriaca from a Scruple

*Your Glory Sir, is like the Rising Sun,
 And by your Sword shall mighty things be done.
 Proceed and mighty; by the Decree of fates,
 Be judge of Kingdoms, and dispose of States.
 From you their Rise or Downfall they assume,
 Expecting from your brandisht Sword their Doom.*

Legions of Angels, in your Tents did lie,
Which made your Adversaries faint and die,
Thus their despairing Numbers gave you place,
With Fear, and Dread, and Paleness in their face,
The Gallick Fury vanish like a Ghost,
And trembling stood before your mighty Host.

The late adored King, by Royal All,
 When he was Crown'd, made us a solemn oath,
 The People claim'd his Oath and Royal Word,
 But 'stead of them held forth the Lawless Sword,
 His Subjects might not their own right dispute,
 His Paradox declar'd him absolute.

No King had ere a more prodigious Rise,
Declared Gracious, and reputed Wise:
Supported by his Subjects Love, not fear,
And in the Hearts of all his People dear.
Thus he the Crown and ravish'd Kingdom seiz'd;
And spite of all our Laws, did what he pleas'd.

Scurvy-grass, Sugar, of each 3 Pound beat them together well in a Mortar, then add Winter's Cinnamon in fine
Powder 2 ounces, Tartar calcin'd with Nitre 1 ounce, mix them. Dose the quantity of a Chestnut twice a day, with a Glass of Scurvy-Grass Wine, or after purging as aforesaid.

XIV. Against the Green-Sickness and Scurvy.

Take bits of old Iron, as horse
Nails, Hob-nails, and such like, 1
Pound, choise Cyder 4 pound, mix and digest without heat, for 5 or 6 months, then let the sick take 2 or 3 Spoonfulls of it every morning, it perfectly cures the Green-Sickness, and Scurvy (after purging with any Ri-dully Pills, Family Poulter, or Elixir) in 2 or 3 weeks time, and the Patient commonly finds good upon taking the first Dose. This is a Medicine will not fail.

XV. A Remedy against the Collick

Take rectified Spirit of Wine
a pound, Spirit of Nitre 6 ounces
Mix and distill them together, co-hibating 3 or 4 f.v. tal times, then add Pepper in fine Powder, Juniperberrie, Camomile, of each 2 pound, mix, digest 10 or 12 days, decant the clear, filter, and keep it close stoppt for use. Dose 40 or 60 drops, or more in a glass of Wine or Ale, morning and evening, or time of Paroxysms.

August both xxv days

But God who heard us Cry, and heard us groans
 Our right'ous cause Espoused for his own.
 Their holy Plot for the pretended cause,
 Made to ensnare us, and o'return our Lams,
 He did defeat; and caught in their own snare,
 Th' Impostor they designed the Kingdom's Heir.

Such sanctified Treasures God espied,
 And did the depth of their designs deride.
 He had a King in store, the Great Nathan,
 Whose Right the Kingdom was by Choice and Law.
 May he with satisfaction wear the Crown,
 Long may live, in Glory and Renown.

Physick. See the Patient purge every 3 or 4th day with our Family Pills, or rather with our Elixir, for that immediately enters into the Blood and purifies, and alters it to a miracle; and in the interim, 3 days morning and evening, you may give this following Medicine. Take the m-lagious Extract of Juniper berries 4 ounces, Volatile Salt of it 7 grains, 2 drams, Powder of Vipers 4 drams, Opium gently dried and powdered 12 grains: mix and make a Electuary. Dose 3 dram every night going to bed.

XVII To stop bleeding in Women. Cruso says, that Oil of Clove being presently put into a Wound, causes it to cease immediately, without inflammation, and bring fordid Ulcers to a cicatrice, and cleanse them; and stops Blood so admirably, that nothing does it more, or better. If Oil of Cloves, which is hot, does this so absolutely and safely, much more safely may it be supposed to be done with Oil of Turpentine, or any other like Chemical Oil, which is cheap, and want some degrees of the heat of the Oil of Cloves; and possibly from this it might be, that Turpentine might receive his Notion of stopping bleeding with Oil of Turpentine.

Whilst the whole Army of the French lay by,
 You taught your Men their Numbers to despise,
 Their Garisons demolish'd in their fight,
 Whilst they beheld, and did themselves no right.
 They threaten'd a Revenge, and boldly swore,
 But all the Affronts you offer'd tamely bore.

September 1990

*Rais'd Beaumont Walls before their Armies Face,
French Courage kindly taking the Disgrace;
Not one bold Man out of their Camp did move,
Nor thought it prudence, Royal Force to prove.
They valiant are, when that no Foe is near,
But always weak, when Enemies appear.*

Yet tis said the French and others used it before him, in the same Case.

XVIII. The Prince Powder, so much found and talk of, against the Pox, &c.

Take Aqua Fortis pure Mercurio, p. 1. mix and dissolve, then rostrate the Spirit to dryness, & the precipitate ground upon a Porphyry, add to it a quarter part of its weight of Oleum Tartari per deliquium, mix & digest together 24 hours, pouring it into a glass, upon the purified Spirit of Wine, to cover it up it an Inch, and distill it, which repeats 20 times, and it is done. It is given in the Yolk of an Egg, or Conserve of Roses, &c.

The Prince gave it half a Dram to a Dram, which in my Opinion, is much too great a Dose, it may be given from 3 Grains to 12 or 20 in very strong Bodies.

XIX. A Specifick Anodin, against the Gout, and all manner of Pains, &c. Coughs, Colds, and the like.

Take Thebain Opium 3 Ounces, dissolve it in Juice of Lemons 4 Ounces, mix with half an Ounce of Spirit of Sulphur, digest 24 hours, and pass it through a course linen sieve.

November 1695

'Tis you that from th' Imp'store set us free,
Cut off th' entail of Popish Tyrannie;
Deliver'd us, from Popery and its Curse,
Eternal Ruins of Tyrannick force.

You rescu'd our Religion, and the State.

'Twas you retriev'd the spiecked Kingdoms Fate.

and grind them well together, then add Oil of Roses half an ounce, & a few in Powder 1. drams, mix and use as Ointment. Being apply'd it brings Wounds, and ill named Ulcers to perfection in a short time, and dissolves them to a healing.

XXIII. A most excellent Oile against the Gout.

Take Oil of Olive Turpentine, Oil of Spike, of each 4 ounces; Oils of Rosemary, of Orange, and Lemons each of each 2 ounces, Camphir 1 ounce and half, mix and dissolve. Apply it night and the Targent and Pain can endure it, or but warm on more tender Parts, then bind it up in Flannel moistned with the said mixture; this has succeded, when a thousand other things have failed;
the Sick ought also to purge once a week, either with any of the Pills or Lax to carry off the Cause.

XXIV. For the Yellow Jaundice.

Take Goose dung gathered in the Prime in fine Powder 2 ounces, White Ben-zoin in fine Powder 1 Ounce, white Onion-Candy in fine powder 1 ounce, mix them. Dose 2 at a time every morning fasting, and at night going to bed in in a glass of white wine, or Sider, or good Ale. it commonly does the cure in a weeks time.

XXV. For a Cough, or Croup in any Part.

There is no better Remedy in the World than the Powders of Amber

December hath xxxi days.

May you on Piety your Throne Erect,
 May the most high your certain way direct.
 And may your heart to God the Lord so run,
 That in a Sacred Flame your Zeal may burn.
 May you be fixt for ever on the Throne,
 And they who seek your Ruine, find their own.

December 1695.

From Treason, and the inexorable Grave,
 May God himself your Royal Person save.
 May Truth and Mercy neer from you remove,
 In Glory Reign, and in your People's Love.
 And since our sinking Kingdom you uphold,
 May you its Royal Scepter ever wield.

AN

AN ADVERTISEMENT.

Whereas one John Hellier Patroller and pretends to Sell Salmon's Family Pills, under that Name, Effigies and Seal, in many Places of this Kingdom for 12 Pence a BOX: This is to give Notice to all Persons whatsoever, That he assumes my Name, Effigies and Seal, doing it without my Privilege, Allowance, Order or Consent, to my great Prejudice and Damage: And that I take me the Author of the said Family Pills, do both now, and shall for time to come, sell the said Family Pills only for 9 Pence a BOX. I have also made several Alterations and Improvements of the Medicine for the advantage thereof, of which Hellier knows nothing, neither as to the Names, Numbers or Natures of the things added or altered: the Preparation, Parts or Proportion of any thing contained therein. By reason of which Alterations, they neither Vomit nor make Stool, as were the Powers in the last; but work more mildly, and as gently than formerly, and without any the least danger, being fitted against the most stubborn and obstinate Disorders, which no other Remedy can cure or help. So that I modestly esteem, that one BOX of said Pills, thus improved, and when as its Virtues and Goodness are worth five BOXES (for all that I have Ten) of that which Hellier or any else make and sell without my Order or my Name. They are now to be had thus rightly prepared at my House, in the New Hall by the Duchside near Habbors bridge, London. Where all sorts of People may have or sell them, or my Family Powder or Elixir, (of which neither knows nothing as I said) may have them (the Pills at 9d. a BOX, the Powder at 6d. a Spoon, and the Elixir at 2s. the Glass) and with the assistance for selling, of which all such as are concerned in their Sale, are hereby desired to take notice.

The World is also desired to remember, That the Advertisement which Hellier, or some of his Accomplices, has put at the end of one of my late published Books, entitled, Scientia Physica and Chyrurgical Oservationum, Printed for Thomas Paginor, in London Bridge, (whilst I was absent in the West Indies) is a false, unworthy and malicious Libel, designedly done to wrong and abuse the Author, and to my very great prejudice, for that I left large quantities of all sorts of my Medicines with my Wife, to be sold in my absence: nor did I ever give her, or any else Leave, Order or Directions to do the same, much less to publish that malicious Advertisement.

I should have been so free as to have declared to the World the present Composition of my Family Pills, as also of my Family Powder, and my Elixir, had I not feared such hard measure, and such an unjust and unworthy Treatment in a Libel, and therefore pardon me Excuse of the Publick for this concealment, and desire to tell the Fantasy of all Persons, without doubt, but as honest Dealers for all things, few times may come to this their Publication.

The Physiologia of the College of Physicians, London, with a Catalogue of the Doctores Physici which have been chosen from Oxford and Cambridge, from 1659 to 1704, and after what manner they came forth: Sold at the Printing Press by the Royal Exchange in Cornhill.

THE LONDON Almanack,

For the Year 1695.

By W. Salmon Professor of Physick.

1. Of the Eclipses this Year, 1695.

1. FOUR times will the great Luminaries, or Lights of Heaven suffer a Deliquium or Eclipse this Year, viz. Two of the Sun, and as many of the Moon, which will happen in the Order following:

2. The first Defect will be of the Moon, on May 18. about 10 in the Morning, and therefore as invisible to us. It happens in $\uparrow 8^{\circ}$. near her North Node, and not far from the Scorpion's Heart.

3. It is in the Second Face of Sagittary, and is the Face of Arms and Religion, of Force and Violence, with a Face of Religion and Piety, but promises no good to the Roman Clergy, but rather their going down the Wind, and their Subjugation under the Secular Power.

4. The Second Eclipse will be of the Sun, on June 1. about 5. at Night, in $\Pi. 21$ and will be visible with us, if the Air be clear; for it is celebrated in the VIII. House.

5. It falls in the Fifth Face of Gemini, which is of the Nature of Saturn and Mercury; and is the face of Contempt, Sorrow, Affliction, and Subtilty; it fore-shews Plots and other evil Designs, through Craft, and wicked Machinations: And as it falls in the 8 House in Gemini, it fore-shews a sickly Time in London, I pray God it be not the Plague.

6. The Third will be a Lunar Deliquium, on Novemb. 10. about 8. in the Evening; in $\oslash 29^{\circ}$. About a third Part of the Moon's Body will be eclipsed; and if the Air be clear may be seen of us; for it happens in the XI House.

7. It will fall in the Sixth and last Face of Taurus, the Ascendent of Ireland, which is the Face of Sorrow and Trouble, Vexation and Perplexity: And signifies some Unhappiness to the Common People, through the Subtilty of Priests, Jesuits, and such as are affected to the Popish Faction, under the Pretences of Friendship.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

8. The Fourth and last Eclipse, will be a small one, of the Sun on November 6. about Seven in the Morning in $\Delta 14^{\circ}$. But it will be invisible to us, because the Sun will then be below the Horizon, or not risen.

9. It happens in the Fourth Face of Sagittary, which shews the Diminution of Honour and Glory to some great Persons; but by reason it is small and invisible to us, it will have the less Power and Force.

10. An Opposition also of Saturn and Mars will incipiate on August 14th in Φ and $\Psi 8^{\circ}$ which are the Second Faces of those Signs; and is worthy of Consideration and Observation.

II. The Virtues and Uses of several famous Medicines.

1. Tinctura Succini, Tincture of Amber.

Take Tartarised Spirit of Wine what you please, put to it so much of the best rectified Spirit of Salt, till the Effervescence shall cease, leave them together till the Spirit flows clear; then take the yellow Amber in fine Powder one Pound, of the aforesaid Menstruum, so much as may over-top it 4 Inches, digest together a Week, or till you have a glorious yellow Tincture, which decant; upon the remaining Powder put new Menstruum, so long till it will yield no more Tincture.

It is hot, Cephalick, and good against Diseases of the Head, Brain and Nerves: It stops Catarrhs, is good against the Falling-sickness, Apoplexy, Lethargy, Megrim, Head-ach, Vertigo, Vapors, Fits of the Mother, Inflammation of the Womb; it stops all Fluxes both of Blood and Seed, and is good against the Gonorrhœa both in Men and Women, and indeed is prevalent against most Diseases proceeding from Cold and Moisture. Dose a 3℥ ad 3i, or full in some Syrup, as of Cinnamon, or Peony, or in some spirituous Liquor, as Cardamom-water, or the like. Price 2 s. 6 d. an Ounce.

2. Tinctura Sulphuris, Tincture of Sulphur.

Take common Balsam of Sulphur 1 Pound, Rain-water 2 Pounds; mix and distill in a Glass Alembick, in B. M. so will the Astherial Spirit or Oil of Turpentine ascend with the Water, and leave the true Balsam of Sulphur behind in the bottom; to which affuse the best Tartarised Spirit of Wine, so much as may cover it 4 Inches; digest and extract till the Tincture is of a very high colour, then decant and affuse fresh Spirit, till it will yield no more Tincture; join these Tinctures together, filtrate and abstract two thirds of the Spirit, keeping the Remainder for Use.

It is good against the Yellow-Jaundice, and all Diseases of the Breast and Lungs, as Coughs, Colds, Rheumatisms, Shortness

ness of Breath, Difficulty of breathing, and all sorts of Obstructions or Stoppages of the Pulmonick Parts. It warms, dries, and heals, and therefore is good against Phtisicks and Ulcers of the Lungs. Dose a gutt. 10. ad 20. in Ale, Wine, or Milk-water. Price 2 s. 6 d. an Ounce.

3. Aqua Regina Hungarica, Queen of Hungary's Water.

Take Rosemary Flowers, gathered a little after the rising of the Sun, 2 Pounds; put them into a double Vessel, and affuse on them Alcohol, or Rectified Spirit of Wine 3 Pounds; lute exactly the Joins, and digest in a gentle heat for three Days, then strain out, and distill in Balneo, with a Glass Alembick to the thickness of an extract, so have you in the Receiver a subtil liquor, which is the Queen of Hungary's Water. The extract keep by it self.

This is an excellent thing for the head, brain, nerves and joints, it is good against Vertigoes, Apoplexies, Palsies, Cramps, Convulsions, Numbness, Trembling, Pains, Aches and Weaknesses of any part proceeding from Cold, Blows, or Bruises; it preserves the Sight even to old Age. You may take it inwardly for all the aforesaid purposes, half a Spoonful at a time morning and evening, in a glass of Wine or Ale; and bath it outwardly upon the place; bathed upon the Forehead and Temples, and drawn up the Nostrils it cures the head-ach almost in a moment. Price 6 d. an Ounce.

4. Collyrium Ophthalmicum, The Eye-Wash.

R. Rectified Spirit distilled from Rye bread Camphorated 3 12. Spirit of Sal-Ammoniac 3 4. Verdigrease prepared 3 6 fl. Saccharum Saturni 3 2; mix, dissolve, filter, and keep it for use. Sometimes use Roman Vitriol instead of the Verdigrease.

It is an excellent thing for almost all Distempers of the Eyes; it stops Fluxes and Rheums in the Eyes, by being but bathed on the outside of the Eye-lids; for other distempers of the Eyes, as films, pearls, clouds, dimness of the sight; some few drops are to be mixt with a little Spring or Well-water, and so to be dropt into the Eyes, or the Eyes washed therewith 3, 4, or 5 times a day. For Suffusions or Cataracts the Water is dropt into them alone without mixture. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

5. Tinctura Anticolicæ, Tincture against the Colick.

R. Spirit of Wine a quart, Powers of Aniseeds 3 4. Rheubarb thinly sliced 3 2. Liquorice bruised, Gentian, Comex Winterana of each 3 6. digest and make a Tincture according to Art, filter and keep it for use; dulcify with White Sugar-Candy 3 2.

It gives relief in the most intolerable tortions of the Bowels, and cures after a most admirable manner the most vehement Colick; it cures the West-Indian Belly-ach, a Disease account-

ted by the Physicians of those Parts almost Uncurable; it perfects the Cure though of several months standing, and so absolutely performs it, that it scarcely ever returns any more. It is profitable against all sorts of Fluxes and Bloody Fluxes, healing the Bowels; and against most diseases and weakneses of those parts, yet it gently purges. I commonly give it little ones, and new-born Children, while in the month; for by the use thereof the sharp, black, or green Matter in their Bowels is commonly carried off, which prevents not only present danger, but also future diseases. Dose \dot{a} 3 fl. \dot{a} 3 2. in any convenient Liquor. To Children you may give once, twice, or thrice a day, 12 or 14 drops thereof in a little breast Milk or other Milk. Price 12 pence an Ounce.

6. Tinctura aurea, The Golden Tincture.

℞. Spirit of Wine ζ 40. Powers of Aniseeds ζ 4. Powers of Cloves ζ 2. Tincture of Coral compound ζ 1. Pulp of Colocynthis (freed from the seeds, and in gross powder) ζ 4. choise Rheubarb thinly sliced, sena, ana ζ 1. Cinnamon ζ fl. mix and make a Tincture; pressing out the Liquor hard, add thereto fresh Colocynthis ζ 3. digest, filter, and keep it for use.

It is an excellent Antiscorbutick Purge in a cold Constitution; it carries off Flegm, and all sorts of flegmatick Humours and Water out of the whole Body, is profitable against the Scurvy, Dropsy and Gout in any part wheresoever, and roots out Diseases tho' of long standing; and truly in my Opinion, it is one of the best of Catharticks in Venereal Distempers, for it opposes the morbidick Matter, and carries off the cause to a miracle: It also opens all sorts of Obstructions in Women-kind, and powerfully provokes the Menstrues. Dose \dot{a} 3 2. \dot{a} 3 4. in any proper Vehicle. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

7. Tinctura Antivenerea, Tincture against the French-Pox.

℞. The best Tartarised Spirit of Wine 40 Ounces, Powers of Sassafras 16 Ounces, Coriex Guajaci in powder ζ 12. Rasplings of the Wood ζ 6. Balsam de Tolu ζ 3. mix and make a Tincture.

It is given Dietetically against the Pox, and therefore only used in place of a Diet drink, in the Venereal Distemper, and the troop of Symptoms accompanying it. It purifies the Blood, and expels all manner of Malignity out of the Humours. Dose \dot{a} 3 1. \dot{a} 3 2. 2 or 3 times a day in a glass of Ale; or oftner if occasion be. Price 18 d. an Ounce.

8. Tinctura Opii Sulphurata, Tincture of Opium Sulphurated.

℞. Juice of Citrons a quart, of the best Thebian Opium cut into small bits ζ 8, dissolve over a gentle heat and strain through a hair Cloth or Sieve; then evaporate to the consistence of an Extract, thick

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

thick like new Honey, upon which affuse the following Menstruum: Take Spirit of Wine a quart, pure Oil of Sulphur per Campanum $\frac{3}{4}$ i. mix Gradatim, and with it extract a Tincture from the former extract by digestion in a very gentle heat for 14. days, then decant the clear, and keep it for use.

It is an excellent thing against the Cholick, griping of the Guts, Wind, pain of the Stomack and Spleen, sharp and corroding Humours in the Bowels, and all other pains whatsoever in any part of the Body. It cures the flux of the Liver, overflowing of the Menses, &c. in Women, and is a famous remedy to prevent Miscarriage. It is a Medicine which may be given in the Measles and Small-Pox, with singular advantages to Children, as to Elder Persons both Men and Women, and always with so good success, that I do not remember one that has died of those diseases which has taken it. It is an excellent Remedy also against the Gout, whether in Hands, Arms, Hips, Knees, Legs or Feet, as also for all such as are afflicted with vehement and painful Rheumatisms, pains from the Scurvy, or Pox, Sciatica, Agues of all Sorts, and other diseases arising from sharp and vitious humours. It cures the Tooth-ach, being held in the mouth, and cures the Plague or Pestilence, Spotted-fever, and other like infectious diseases. Dose $\frac{1}{2}$ gut. 20. ad 60. or more, according to Age and Strength in Wine, Ale, or Water, at Night going to Bed. Price Eighteen pence an Ounce.

III. Several choice Remedies against the Plague.

1. A Preservative against the Plague.

Rx.  Of the best rectified Spirit of Wine four pound. Jamaica Pepper $\frac{3}{4}$ iij, Virginian Snake root, Contrayerva, Cortex Winteranus, Cinnamon, Bay-berries, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ ij. Gentian, Cubebs, Zedoary, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ i ss Cloves, Mace, Nutmegs, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ ss. Ginger, Saffron, Cochenele, Camphire, ana $\frac{3}{4}$ 2, mix and digest ten days in a Glass close stopped, shaking it every day, then let it settle, and pour off the clear Tincture, which keep close stoppt in another glass for use. Dose half a Spoonful in a Glass of Sack, or other Vehicle, Morning, Noon, and Night.

2. An Antidote for the Cure of the Plague.

Rx. Mithridate $\frac{3}{4}$ i. Salt of Harts-horn gr. 14. Bezoar mineral gr. 8. mix, and give it the Sick; after which let them take a little Treacle water, or Aqua Bezoartica: let them be in bed, and sweat upon it. Or this Pouder. Rx. Bezoar mineral $\frac{3}{4}$ 3. Sal pruvellæ $\frac{3}{4}$ 2 Camphire $\frac{3}{4}$ i. mix and make a fine Pouder. Dose $\frac{3}{4}$ i.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

3. A Treacle-Water against the Plague.

R. Of the best rectified Spirit of Wine four pound, of the best Mithridate, or Our Antidote \mathfrak{z} 8. mix them well together, digest ten days and decant the clear Tincture. To this Tincture add its equal quantity of Rhenish-Wine, or choice Canary, and so keep it for use. This will be good Treacle-Water. You may make it stronger, if you add more of the Treacle or Antidote, if you so please.

4. Another Antidote against the Plague.

R. Extract of Gentian \mathfrak{z} 4. Mithridate or our Antidote \mathfrak{z} 2. Camphire, or Bezoar-mineral, ana \mathfrak{z} 6. Saffron, Cochinele in Powder, ana \mathfrak{z} 2. mix and make an Electuary. Dose \mathfrak{z} 1 fl. the Patient being in Bed, and sweating upon it, drinking after it also a little of the former Treacle-Water.

5. Another Antidote of extraordinary Virtue.

R. Of our Pulvis Anti-febricitans, or Fever-Powder (the Preparation of which you have in our Phylaxa Medicinæ, cap. 45. Sect. 1.) \mathfrak{z} fl. more or less, according to the Age of the Sick, dissolve it in \mathfrak{z} 4. or 6 of Ale, Rhenish-wine or Canary, well sweetned with Sugar, and give it in the Morning fasting, and at Night going to bed, for Prevention: But for Cure, at any other time most requisite, making the Sick to sweat upon it. It is inferior to no other Antidote in the World.

6. A Cataplasim to break a Plague-Sore.

R. Common Salt decapitated and ground fine, Mithridate, Figs, ana \mathfrak{z} 2. Soap \mathfrak{z} 4. Hens dung, Turpentine, ana \mathfrak{z} 2. beat all well together, and apply it. This will not deceive you in your Expectation, for it will break any pestilential Bubo or Swelling, and turn out a Carbuncle; it strongly draws the Malignity, and makes it fit to be cured by any ordinary Medicine.

7. A Cataplasim more powerful.

Take unslacked Lime, black Soap, mix and apply them. Barbes saith, there is none that is more corrosive than this, and yet causes lesser pain, being much better than the actual Caustery. The Bubo being opened, it ought to be kept running for 5 or 6 Weeks, that all the Malignity may come forth.

IV. To make the Essence of Poppies and Elecampane.

1. Take a great quantity of the whole Plant, when it is in its prime, which is when the Poppy is in its Flower, beat it well in a Marble, Iron, Wooden or Brass Mortar, and reduce to an impalpable Pap, as much as may be, put it into a long neckt Matress, or large Bolt head, which stop and seal up well (or fix a blind head to it, and lute well the Juncture) digest in Horse-dung, or a Sand-heat of equal strength, for 40 days; then open the Vessel and strain out the thinner parts by pressing, which will be a kind of slimy Liquor: Digest this again in a very gentle Sand-heat, or rather in B. M. that there may be a Residence of the grosser Parts: this thinner separate again by Inclination, which perfectly purify, by adding to every quart of the Liquor from half an Ounce to an Ounce of its own fixt Salt; or for want of the same, as much pure Salt of Tartar: Digest again for forty days, then separate the pure from the impure, and keep the Essence for use in a Glass close stopp'd. It will keep a long time, and be as it were incorruptible. Dose from a quarter of a Spoonful to half a Spoonful. The Essence of Plants made after this manner will be transparent, either of an Emerald Green, or a delicate reddish Colour, according to the quantity and quality of the Salt, Sulphur and Mercury predominating in each Plant.

2. This is a most admirable Medicine against all Surfeits whatsoever, as also against all manner of vehement and almost intolerable pains of the Cholick, Gout, Stone, or other latent Dolours in any part of the Body from Head to Foot, by taking it inwardly as aforesaid in a Glass of Ale or Wine, and so repoling upon it; also bathing the Place outwardly with the same, and applying a cloth wet therein upon the part. This Medicine is also excellent against all manner of Coughs and Colds, stops all manner of Fluxes of blood in any part, and the overflowing of the Menstrues in Women: And effectually cures any Flux of the Belly whatsoever.

3. If in the last digestion you added to every quart of the Liquor black Pepper in fine powder 2. Ounces: Camphire half an Ounce dissolved in half a pint of Spirit of Wine, and then continue the digestion as aforesaid for the said forty days, you will have a most incomparable Medicine, and much more effectual to all the Intentions aforesaid.

To make the Essence of Elecampane.

4. After the same manner you may make the Essence of green Elecampane-roots, to which it will be necessary to add in the making for every pound of the Root, Water half a pint, good Brandy a quarter of a pint, and then to proceed by the former Method, digesting and separating the thinner parts by pressing out, and then digesting again with its own Salt, or Salt of Tartar, and at last separating the pure Essence for use. It is a most admirable thing against Coughs,

Colds, Asthma's Obstructions of the Lungs, Hoarseness, and other Distempers of the Brest and Stomach; you may take of it from a Spoonful to two or three, either alone, or in a Glas of Ale or Wine, Morning and Night; or two or three times a day, according as the Cough troubles you.

5. If you cannot get the green Root, you may take the dried Root, cut it into thin chips, and make a strong decoction of it in water, which being strained out and sweetned with a little sugar or honey is a most excellent thing for the same purpose; or rather make the Root into fine powder, and to every four Ounces of powder put a quart of Spirit of Wine, digest a Month in a gentle sand-heat, shaking the Glas every day: at last let it settle well, and decant off the clear Tincture for use. Dose a Spoonful or better either alone or mixt in a Glas of Ale. It will be a good way after the Tincture is decanted off, to mix with every pint of it 2 Ounces of white Sugar-candy: This Tincture is a Medicine that cannot be valued enough, for any vehement Cough or Cold, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, Difficulty of Breathing, Obstructions of the Lungs, Pleuritic Pains, and the like, for which I commend it as a great Secret.

V. Genealogical Considerations.

1. AS in our Horæ Mathematicæ, lib. 2. cap. 20. we have shewn a Progressive Method of Directions from the Diurnal Motions of the Planets every day; wherein every day forward from the day of Birth; either signifies a Year, as in the place cited we have declared; or else a month, as in its proper Place we have explicated: So also there is a Regressive Method (as a very ingenious Person has been pleased to take notice of) in the same Proportion or Measure of Time, allowing a day to signify both a Year and a Month backwards, before the Native was born, from the day of Birth in like manner.

2. This seems to be a Circle like that of the Antiscions respecting the Tropicks; for here, in this, the Day and Moment of Birth is as it were a Center, at least a fixed and limited point, which all the Heavenly Bodies, as well Retro-spect as Prospect, and look as well before-hand to it, as behold it after it.

3. The Reason in part is evident; for if Causes go not without their Effects, the Act of the Birth and all the things belonging to it succeeding it, can only be estimated as a continued Series of Effects, produced by an answerable Series of Causes.

Causes going before them, and antecedent to the day of Birth; but because we propose this as a proposition only to be considered of, and by experience to be observed whether it be true or false; and if true, how near it comes to truth, or wherein or in what parts or branches thereof it may vary from it, we shall say no more here in defence thereof, but leave it to be received or rejected, as every one by their Observations shall find reason for.

4. Having therefore drawn the Figure into a Speculum, consider every Year current preceding the day of Birth, (accounting a day for a year) what every Planet transits in the Speculum, (always in this Case going upwards and backwards in the said Speculum, as in the former you went forwards and downwards) and note that. Then consider the Places of the Planets for that day, as also the Planets Diurnal Motion, and how much the Promissor's Place exceeds, or is less than the Planets Place at the aforesaid time. Then say as the Planets diurnal Motion is to 365 days, so are the minutes of excess or defect, to the days of the accident, to be accounted from the day of the present year, which the day of Birth happened on.

5. But to direct the Ascendent or M. C. to any Promissor, observe the motion of the promissor backwards, before or from the time of birth, and direct as aforesaid the said promissor to those points (which are either the places themselves, or) which are in exact Sextile, Quartile, Trine, or Opposition to the said Significators, so have you the time of the Direction in years and days.

6. The Lunar directions, and directions from the mutual Aspects, are contained on the right hand Page of the Ephemeris, with their exact time of Incidence; for (if the Ephemeris is calculated for the Meridian of Birth) subduct the time of the Aspects or directions Incidence in the Ephemeris (against that day signifying or answering to the number of years current) from the hours and minutes P. M. at time of Birth, the remaining time (allowing two hours for a Month, and four minutes for a day) point out the true time of the directions operating.

7. Now as the Annual Directions are taken from the diurnal motion of the Sun, wherein every day from the day of birth backwards, signifies so many years; so the mensural directions are taken from the diurnal motion of the Moon, wherein every day from the day of birth backwards, signifies so many months.

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

8. The Figure then being drawn into a Speculum, consider every day currant and going backwards (accounting a day for a month) what every Planet transits in the Speculum, and note the same; for they are the concurring directions of the respective months sought after.

9. On the right hand Page also of the Ephemeris, observe the Incidence of all the Aspects, whether Lunar or Mutual, for the same days, and note them: Then (if the Ephemeris be calculated for the Meridian of Birth, or any Place near it) subduct the time of the Aspects Incidence in the Ephemeris (against that day answering to the number of months currant) from the time of the Birth in hours and minutes P. M. the remainder is the Arch of Direction; which (allowing 1 hour for a day, 6 h. for 7 d. 12 h. for 14 d. 18 h. for 21 d. and 24 h. for the whole 28 d.) points out the exact time when the said directions will be in power and force.

10. If the Native was born whether in the Forenoon or Afternoon, and the Aspect happening the same day was after the hour of Birth, that Aspect or direction is to be accounted as a direction of the preceding day or month; and therefore,

11. Account no Aspect or Direction in the compass of the present month currant you enquire about, but such as shall fall before the hour of Birth. And as you begin your month at the time the ☽ enters the same point of Heaven she was in at Birth, so begin the day answering to the month currant desired, at the hour of Birth, accounting on to 24 h. backward, to the same time of the preceding day.

12. If the Native was born at Noon, you have no more to do then but to subduct the hours of the aspects or directions incidence from 24, the remainder, without any more trouble, is the true Arch of Direction sought for.

13. Lastly, This is also to be noted, That having made an estimate of the Years of the Native's life, all the directions happening every day, preceding the day of Birth to the end of the days answering to that estimate of years, have a double measure of time: The first Annual, from the diurnal Motion of the Sun: The second Mensural, from the diurnal motion of the Moon. And being directed for the one, they serve without any new performance for the other varying only the measure of time in the arch of direction, as your Reason will sufficiently inform you.

The London ALMANACK, 1695

VI. Monthly Observations on the YEAR 1695.

JANUARY.

GR EAT Preparations for the War are made,
And subtil Counsels to advance the Trade.
The Hand of Vengeance closely does pursue,
With Famine and Distress a wretched Crew.
Disorders grow with Discontents and Jars,
And the Coelestials speak of nought but Wars.
Deep Thoughts have they who mighty Scepters wield,
Great Consultations in this Month are held.
Some curst Design will unto light be brought,
There is a Key to the most secret Thought.
Who could believe the things our Eyes do see
Or find a single Traytor out in Three?

FEBRUARY.

What are the Counsels Heav'n does approve,
What is the Order of the Fates above?
Can peace be hop'd for whilst the Tyrant reigns?
Can ought but Blood wash out his bloody Stains?
His Drinking and Catousing humane Blood,
Still puts a Counter balance to our Good.
There is a Congress of the Men of State,
Who talk of Peace, and all of Peace debate.
But what of Peace whilst Jerabel does live?
And why a Peace to him that Blood does give?
The Gallick Tyrant for no Peace can hope,
There is no Peace to Tyrant, King or Pope.

MARCH.

The mighty and the lofty One above,
With Scenes of War the Nations still does prove.
And on His Throne determine things and sees;
And Spight of Tyrants will do what He please.
If He designs, who is't that dares gain-say?
If He commands who dares to disobey?
The Fates of mortal Men, 'tis he that sets;
And now he makes one lose, another gets.
Some mighty Men transact th' Affairs of State,
And rise to Grandure with the Peoples hate.
They rise and fall, and in short time are not,
This is their wretched Portion and their Lot.

APRIL.

The slippery Paths of Greatness often prove

The London ALMANACK, 1695.

The Gallick-Burthen grows more heavy still,
And Tyrant Lewis drinks of Blood his Fill.
He's not exempt from the Decree of Fate,
His Perjur'd Person, nor his Tyrant State.
Heav'n will no Bribes receive; do what is just:
And Kings reward according to their Trust.
Can he then hope for Peace, who bathes his Sword
In humane Blood, and's perjur'd to his Word?
No, no: His Glory in the Dust is laid,
Base Lewis shall in his own Coin be paid.

M A Y.

England triumphs, and does in Glory spread,
Her Genius looks, as risen from the Dead.
And this seems now as if design'd to be
The Prodromus of our Felicity.
For all the Constellations do combine,
To have a Share in this same great Design.
Cæsar's triumphant Fleet the Sea does ride,
And by its Force abates the French-Man's Pride.
They plough the Ocean, range without controul,
Whilst Monfieur sneaks, and creeps into a hole.
They seek the Coward-Foe, but none can find,
The Sea's their own, their way's with e'ry Wind.

J U N E.

Some talk of Peace, but Signs of War appear:
On Coward-French, are only Marks of Fear.
Their Pageant-Glory suffers a Rebate,
Base and Perfidious Lewis fears his Fate.
Great Armies do approach, yet there's no Hope;
The French-Man dares not trust his God, the Pope.
Such are the Fates of mortal Men, some rise,
And others fall, who think themselves more wise.
The Grand Prefages of this Month do call,
Some great ones to be mindful of their Fall.
And fall they must; the Secret is reveal'd;
The Treason's out which was in Hell conceal'd.

J U L Y.

Did not Great Jove his Sovereign Power unite,
Mankind would make but one continued Fight.
Such are the perverse Minds of humane Race,
In Blood and Murther all their good they place.
Some Battle's near, or some unhappy Town,
Does feel the Weight of our Great Monarch's Frown.
In Dust and Ashes all their Court is laid.

What signifies their Fleet, their Men of War,
Before the great Nassau, they dare not stir.
But only as a Thief that shuts the Light,
They run away, they dare not stay to fight.

The Gallick Greatness drops and falls in Awe,
He humbly bows who would observe no Law.
And Rome with Opposition meets; the Pope,
Who gave him Comfort, now is out of Hope.
The Holy See waits a Successors Place,
Europe's Affairs for better change their Face.
For Peace 'tis Lewis begs, no Peace obtains,
Ideas of Peace ar'n't formed whilst he reigns.
He begs and prays, intreats without Success,
His Tyrant-Actions Peace can never bless.
No Peace to France, without the Tyrant's Fall,
No Subject 'tis, nor comes not at his Call.

S E P T E M B E R.

A secret Trap for Traytors now is laid:
In their own way exactly they are paid.
'Tis Policy sometimes to try and prove;
'Tis Prudence sometimes to pretend to love.
'Tis wisely done, to see, and not to see:
And seem a Fool, rather than Fool to be.
But mark the Traytor, and behold his Fate,
Under his Prince's Wrath, the Peoples Hate.
He bows indeed, and so is forc'd to do;
Whom Treason drives can no ways chuse, but go.
Our Monarch nothing fears, that God, who gave
Him former Triumphs, certainly will save.

O C T O B E R.

Mankind's Destroyer, now himself's destroy'd;
The Crown is vacant, and the Monarch's void.
The whole French Nation's sick, 'tis sick, diseas'd;
And with a Gangrene of its parts its seiz'd.
The only way t' its Health, is to divide;
To amputate, or make the Wound more wide.
No hopes for Peace, 'tis all without Effect:
Men may propose, but God alone direct.
Th' ungrateful French grow proud, insult, and swell;
Their Land's destroy'd, their King sent down to Hell;
Thus 'tis with those who in their might do trust:
Thus Tyrants fall, God cannot be unjust.

The London ALMANACK, 1693.

NOVEMBER

The Sever is Master of his own,
Peace make large Steps unto the Spanish Crown.
But 'tis thro' craggy Way it makes advance;
It Passage finds thro' Rivers of proud France.

Europe's Disturber meet his fatal Doom,
The utmost Period of his Kingdom's come.
May all such Tyrants fall into the Snare,
And in the Traps be taken, they prepare.
Who sows to Peace of Peace the Fruit shall find,
Who Discord sows, shall Reap the kind.
The Turkish Power veils, and does increase,
And French-like, ceases henceforth to be great.

DECEMBER

Let us rejoice, who were to Ruine sold,
Justice does now the Royal Scepter hold.
Under our Fig-trees, and our Vines we sit,
Our Monarch's Arms have found a safe Retreat.
He, who redeem'd us by his mighty Power,
Makes hop'd-for Peace accord in every Hour.
We can no more with foreign Poes be vext,
Nor with Domestick Feats the Minds perplext.
Thy Safety he indulg'd us with his Sword,
And for the same has given his Royal Word.
With open Hearts and Tears of Joy, we sing
William the Great: long Live unto the King.

FINIS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

I. THE Family Pills, and Family Powder. Both these Medicines are fitted for the Cure of the Stomach, Intestines, but the Pills work more gently; the Powder more strongly, yet both very safely and may be given to Old or Young, Man, Woman, or Child, being given in a proper Dose. The Benefit having both Pills and Powder, is this, that they who cannot swallow the Pills, may take the Powder; and they who cannot take the Powder, may make use of the Pills, they being universal Purgers. These Family Pills and Family Powder, are eminent for the Cure, not only of the more manifest Diseases, but also of Aguet, Cough, Hoarseness, Catarrhs, Rheum, Rheumy Eyes, Stinking Breath, Heartburn, Flatulency, Stomach, Sticking at Stomach, Pointing, Spasms, Paralysis of Stomach, Hard Drinking, Sea-Sickness, Drinking, Barrenness, Scurvy, Numbness, French-Pox, Gonorrhoea, Swellings, Laborious, Pain, any Pain, Pustules, Wheals, Bitches, Scabs, Itch, Tetter, Ringworms, Scrophles, Leprosy, Mange, Salt Humours, all Breakings out, Running Sores, old Ulcers, Fistulas, Cancre, Kings Evil, Worms, &c.

II. Our Elixir. This our Universal Elixir, was invented for the Sake of such as could not take our Family Pills, and it is indeed, a most admirable Medicine for the Cure of the Scurvy, Dropsie, Gout, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Kings Evil, and Worms: and indeed may be given in any of the Cases, in which the said Pills and Powder may be given, besides which, this Elixir cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma's, Shortness of Breath, Priests, Stiches, Pleurisies, Spleen, Mother-tits, Colic, Griping of the Guts, Bloody flux, Stone, Gonorrhea, Swanery, Sharpness and Heat of Urine, Womens Diseases, Melancholy, Convulsions, Adelaneboly, Exensie, Madness, Frenzy, Apoplexy, Leishy, Falling-sickness, Trembling, Weakness, Dimness of Sight, Deafness, Consumption, weak Backs, Rickets, Green Sickness, Wind, Fever, Calentures, Small-Pox, Measles, Poison and Surfeits.

III. If any Shop-keeper in any Part of England, desires to Sell my Family Pills, or Family Powder, or Elixir, they are only to be had rightly prepared by my own hand, at my House, at the Alum-Bell by the North Gate, near St. Pauls Church, London, and no where else, with private Directions for use. The Price of a Box of Pills is only 9 Pence; of a Paper of Powder 6 Pence, and of a Glass of Elixir 2 s. sending to me at my House aforesaid, they may be constantly had, and a proportional Gain shall be allowed for the Sale of each Particular.

AT the Sign of the Archimedes and Spell-Binder in Ludgate-Street, near the West-End of St. Paul's, lives John Marshall, who both Turns and Grinds, Makes and Sells all Sorts of Glass Instruments; as Perspective Glasses, Telescopes, Microscopes, Microscopes, Spectacles, Reading Glasses from the smallest size to 12 Inches Diameter; Concaves which burn by Reflection, from the least Size to 20 Inches Diameter; Microscopes according to Mr. Leroch's; also Microscopes of the said Marshall's making, a singular Invention for the Advantage of Light, the Use of which were never yet done before. Also a Simple Perspective in one single Glass, accommodated to all Sights, Airs and Places, never thought of by any other Man; Spectacles for all Ages, Crystal Prisms, Speaking Trumpets with many other Sorts of Optick-Instruments (for Brevity sake) not here mentioned.

Scudder's Cordial-Pill, so highly approved, and effectually experienced for the Cure of all Aches, Pains, Gripings of the Guts, Cholick, Stone, Gout, Sciatica, Scurvy, Dropsie and Jaundice; Rains and Distempers of the Head, Coughs, Colds, Pleurisies, Rheum, Shortness of Breath, Difficulty of breathing, Hoarseness, Wheezing, and other Diseases of the Breast and Lungs, recommended and sold by the Author.
